About the usual amount of business was done in city court during the month of November. Seven cases of night walking were tried, and there were 55 cases of intoxication, five of which were sent to Waterbury to take six months' treatment. The other cases were divided between even for selling intoxicating liquor contrary to law, three for breach of the peace, one for non-support, one for cruelty to animals, two for petit larceny, one for adultery, one for reckless driving of an automobile, one for neglecting to send children to school, and one for assault.

Peter Crowe was arrested yesterday by the police on a charge of buying stolen goods. He was found to have in his possession a large number of the brass cranks, which are used in operating the electric cars, and he is alleged to have purchased these of boys for a few pennies apiece. He is a peddler by occupation.

The cranks were stolen from the car barn and in case of a fire their disappearance might have caused considerable trouble as they are necessary in taking the cars out of the barn, each car having its individual cranks.

Two valuable dogs met their death while racing with an automobile on South Willard street Monday morning. One was a bull terrier, the property of M. L. Pease, and the other an Alsatian terrier, belonging to Dr. J. Holmes Jackson. In company with another Alsatian, the dogs were closely following an automobile owned by Mr. Powell and driven by his chauffeur. Near the corner of Maple street two of the dogs ran in front of the car with fatal results. Mr. Powell's dog was killed instantly, while the other was able to get to the lawn in front of one of the houses near there before he succumbed. Dr. Jackson's dog was held in the kennels of his brother, Dr. H. Nelson Jackson, who had another Alsatian badly hurt by an automobile last week.

As a result of the searches made in houses on South Champlain street Sunday afternoon, a number of respondents appeared in city court Monday, where they were fined. Four were arraigned on charges of keeping liquor on hand with intent to sell. They were Mrs. Josephine Stannard, Charles Stannard, John Stannard and Adolphus Mossey. In all cases a fine was fixed at $50 for selling and $20 in the seizure cases. J. J. Enright became surety for Crowley and Mrs. Stannard, and Mrs. Stannard became surety for Charles Stannard and Mossey. A keg of beer which was found at Mrs. Stannard's was ordered returned, as several licenses in the house claimed it and until they had procured it for their own use. Three of the cases were continued for hearing until next Monday, and Crowley waived examination.

The Hotel Vermont, Don's restaurant, the Van Ness House and White's restaurant all did a big business Thursday. The Thanksgiving dinner in many families is now eaten in restaurants, so that the house wife really enjoys the holiday. The Van Ness House sprung a surprise on its guests with several selections from the Royal Maids quartette, who proved to be a most excellent musical organization. The quartette is with the Empire Yacht club bureau of Syracuse, N. Y., and are now traveling in New England. Their music was such as is seldom heard in these parts. In addition to this there was an orchestra. White's and the Hotel Vermont also had an orchestra and Don had beer steak for an additional attraction. Everybody ordered a part of the beer, probably to see how it tasted, and everybody seemed to like it. The most notable dish was that Mr. Don sold most of the remainder of the chops and steaks for home use.

Everything at Fort Ethan Allen is in readiness for the departure of the troops and practically all the baggage is in readiness for the embarkment on the train. There may be some delay in the arrival of the next regiment of cavalry and in that case a battalion of the Fifth Infantry may come over from Plattsburgh barracks. No commissioned officer will be sent to Fort Yuma, as was at first intended, as the present officer in command of it health. This caused a shift of relief from the officers here who were afraid they might draw the assignment. Fort Yuma is below the sea level and is said to be the hottest place in North America. Only a dozen soldiers are kept there. It is an old post which was used by the Indian fighting days and is far removed from civilization. It is related that an officer who died after serving at this post and went to the infernal regions, sent back for his blankets.

COUGHS THAT PREVENT SLEEP. These coughs are wearing and if they "hang on" can run one down physically and lower the vital resistance to disease. Mr. Bob Ferguson, 319 Pine St., Green Bay, Wis., writes: "I was greatly troubled with a bad cough that kept me awake nights. Two small bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound completely cured me." VT. STATE CORN SHOW.

A Kurn Hattin Boy Writes an Interesting Story of the Event.

A boy at the Kurn Hattin Home writes of the 34th annual Vermont State corn show, held at Windsor on the 5th, 6th and 7th of this month, as follows:

With the beautiful weather and excellent management of the different committees, it was the best show of its kind ever held in the State of Vermont.

The doors opened Wednesday at two a. m. The first day a lot of judging was done on corn, apples, potatoes and poultry. Mr. William Mack gave an interesting talk on "Modern Methods of Caring for Poultry."

The trimmings were of green and yellow, making a very pretty combination. There were a number of booths, all of which were filled with attractive articles. There was the Vermont State Agricultural College, the granges of Windsor and surrounding towns, the Baxter Bros. farming factory, Kurn Hattin Home, C. A. work and Kurn Hattin Home.

A gold lined silver cup with an embossed standard was given by the late Maxwell Evans for the best institutional or school exhibit. This cup was won by the Kurn Hattin Home of Westminster, Vermont.

There was a very attractive booth and seemed to be the center of interest for the variety of work of which it consisted. Near the entrance of the booth we had the iron and wood work, which consisted of chairs, books, white-clothes and various small articles. Next came our vegetable and preserves, like carrots, onions, turnips, beets, squashes, pumpkins, cabbage, cauliflower. We had a large display of preserves, which were put up by the boys. We had runner peas, peaches, beans, cherries, pickles, apricots, plums and nuts and had general varieties of home, all of which were raised on our own soil. Our oats, rye, barley and corn turned out very well. The oats and rye were put in bundles and hung on the sides of the booth, and our traces of corn were put in the corners and on the sides too.

Some of us boys went into the potato peeling contest, and Dean Logan, one of the number, won the prize, also won a second prize on his corn husk mat. Our school work was of special interest, which included maps, arithmetic, spelling, writing, drawing, language and primary work.

There were very interesting talks and methods illustrated by experienced people of the State. During a short session of Thursday afternoon Gov. Allen M. Fletcher made a visit and gave an address which was full of enthusiasm.

There was a very good assortment of corn, which showed that the Vermont farmers cannot be beaten. The last night a harvest ball was enjoyed. There were many people from Windsor and outside of Windsor in attendance.

After the ball was over the booths were visited once more for the last time. Several photographs were taken of our booth.

With not a few regrets we packed away our things and returned Saturday afternoon to Kurn Hattin thinking that we had been well repaid for our efforts.

LOST HIS MONEY.

Peter Garrow Claims to Have Been Held Up and Robbed.

A man, who gave his name as Peter Garrow of Walnut street, was found in a mutilated condition under some bushes near the highway which leads from the Essex Junction road to the lime kilns early yesterday morning, and tells a story of having been beaten and robbed by three unknown men.

Garrow says that he went to Essex Junction Tuesday afternoon about three o'clock in search of employment on the dam. He was not successful in obtaining work and after loitering about the village the remainder of the afternoon he started home on foot between eight and nine o'clock. Why he did not take a car he does not explain.

When near St. Michael's College three men seized him, choking him, and throwing him to the ground. After they had pummeled him nearly into insensibility, one said "Let's go through him" and this they proceeded to do, taking what bills he had and leaving him about 40 cents in cash. Garrow says he remembers no more until he awoke about four o'clock in the morning by some workmen who are employed on the high bridge. The spot where he was found is at least 30 rods from where the assault is alleged to have taken place. It rained hard up to that time Tuesday night and while Garrow says he laid out all night, his clothes were perfectly dry when he was found yesterday morning.

After finding the man, the workmen notified Chief of Police Barber of Winoski and he went after Garrow, taking him to Dr. A. S. C. Hill for treatment. It was ascertained that Garrow was injured about the ribs, much as though he had been severely kicked. His face was covered with cuts and bruises, several patches being quite deep, and the whole he was in bad shape. There was no way to get him home so the police ambulance was called and went to Winoski after him, afterwards taking him to his home.

INFANTRYMEN ARRIVE.

Battalion VIII Garrison Fort Ethan Allen until Cavalrymen Come.

The first battalion of the Fifth United States Infantry, which has been stationed at Plattsburgh barracks, came to the city on the steamer Ticonderoga yesterday and marched to Fort Ethan Allen, where they will make their home in the quarters formerly occupied by the second squadron of the Tenth cavalry. The first detachment is under the command of Major William F. Martin, and the four companies are under the command of Captains W. D. Davis, James Justice, Ralph McCoy and J. K. Partello, the last of whom is known here because of his work with the militia. With them are Captain E. M. De Laiffe of the medical corps, First Lieut. W. H. Willis Second Lieut. A. H. Ewell, battalion adjutant, and Second Lieut. M. D. Welby and George Lewis Brown, Jr. Cards to the Algonquin and Ethan Allen clubs have already been sent the officers.

The troops reached here about nine o'clock and the transporting of the baggage took up nearly the entire day. The men of the Fifth received their pay Tuesday and the Tenth yesterday, and in spite of an unsettled condition of things a large number found their way down town.

This morning some special police horse cars will start with the officers' horses for New York city and will there embark for Texas. The government horses, used by the enlisted men, will remain at the post under the care of the infantrymen and the fact that the horses are not to be when South is regarded as an indication that the second cavalry will not be long in coming to this post. Lieutenant Ellsworth will leave in charge of the detachment which will take care of the private mounts.

Tomorrow the Tenth will start south in a three section train. The baggage is ready to be put on board and the first detachment will probably leave early in the morning, with the others following about during the day. They will go directly to New York city and thence will embark on a steamer for Galveston, Texas, proceeding to small posts in Arizona and New Mexico.

NOT BEYOND HELP AT 87.

Sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, stiffness in joints, weak, inactive kidney action and rheumatic pains, are all evidence of kidney trouble. Mrs. Mary A. Dean, 4 East Walnut St., Taunton, Mass., writes: "I have caused my St. Catharine's, Kansas, to be a great deal of trouble. I have tried many medicines, but Foley's Kidney Pills have proved most beneficial in my case." J. W. O'Sullivan (Adv.)

BIG DEFICIT IN SIGHT.

City Departments Are Rapidly Overdrawing Their Appropriations.

An adjourned meeting of the board of aldermen was held last evening for the purpose of considering various matters, the most important of which was the authorizing of a payment of an overdraft of $250 for the street department. The debt for this amount had already been incurred and, although the subject was not mentioned before the board, it is estimated that by the first of the year the different departments in the city will have run into debt for an amount of about $50,000. The superintendent of vaccination cases, the suit against the city in the Leary case and the repairs done to the city hall are mainly responsible for the deficit. Of the street department's deficit, the largest amount, $250, is due Peter Sheeran for cement sidewalks and the remainder is due the Standard Oil company in the sum of $100, and Frank Rafter, who has a bill of $500 for crushed stone.

Other matters brought up were the police road proposition, upon which no progress was made and the granting of several licenses, which met with no opposition. The water commissioners were authorized to make an informal proposition to the government for the supplying of water to Fort Ethan Allen. This would be done at the regular meter rates as the plant here has ample facilities for the producing of the 2000 gallons daily which the post calls for.

Aldermen Brown, Walker, Buell, Lamson, Dion, Reynolds, Boucher and Buchanan were present.

THE LATE T. C. PEASE.

Coroner's Jury Found That Death Was Due to Rupture of Heart.

(From the Colorado Springs Gazette of November 28.)

With his long standing guard over him and his horse waiting but a few feet away, the body of Thomas C. Pease, a Colorado Springs broker, was found early yesterday morning by the roadside near Edinboro, six miles east of Divide, by Mr. and Mrs. James Hickox, who were returning to their home in Edinboro from Colorado City. A coroner's jury in Cripple Creek yesterday afternoon found that death had been due to heart failure, the attack being brought on probably by jolting during a horse-back ride.

Although Pease had been dead for several hours, the dog and horse were patiently waiting for some word from their master. When Hickox attempted to approach the body the dog drove him back and it was only after much coaxing that a party sent out from Woodland Park succeeded in persuading the animal to allow them to touch the body. The horse was standing a few feet from the spot at which Pease apparently fell from the saddle.

KNEW DEATH WAS NEAR.

Evidence that Pease knew the attack was imminent and that he likely could not recover is expressed in a note found in his pocket which read: "I am badly hurt. But I will try to ride as far as I can. I can't stay here any longer." Following these words was the request "Remember location" and a minute description of some property near Woodland Park at which he had been looking.

Immediately on being notified of the accident, Sheriff Von Paul and Coroner Hamilton of Teller county went to the scene. The body was identified in Cripple Creek, where it was taken, as that of Pease. Coroner T. E. Baskin went to Cripple Creek to be present at the inquest.

Pease went to Woodland Park yesterday afternoon to look at some property near there. Hiring a saddle horse from a Mr. Hackman, the broker rode out to the land. When he failed to return Wednesday night, his family expressed fear that he had been the victim of an accident, but no investigation was made. First news of the sudden death of Pease was learned when Hickox drove into Woodland Park early yesterday morning.

ATTACK PROBABLY SUDDEN.

With the exception of slight contusions on the face, caused probably by the fall from his horse, no marks were found on the body. It is supposed Pease, excited by the ride in the high altitude and the continual jolting, was stricken by a sudden attack of heart failure and made a desperate effort to reach Woodland Park. Pease is survived only by his wife. He lived at 814 North Teton street and for several years had maintained an office in the Mining Exchange building. The body will be brought to Colorado Springs this morning. He was born in Vermont. He came to this city in 1892 and since has been actively identified with the brokers' business. He was 50 years old.
